

IT'S WEEK 6!

OCI season is coming to a close, and if you're still looking for a summer job, you certainly aren't alone. Check out Monday's seminar for useful advice on post-OCI job hunting.

On Friday night, the Center for Social Justice is holding its annual benefit dinner, and tickets are still available. See the flyer below for details.

Finally, check out SCU Law's online events calendar. It can be found on the homepage, and it's a great resource to help keep track of what's happening on campus.

Go Broncos!

Hey SCU Law,

Last Wednesday I met with Dean Kloppenberg to raise some of the issues and concerns that I have heard from you so far, here is a brief re-cap:

First, we discussed the “Dean’s Discretionary Fund” that was discontinued this summer. Traditionally, students have had access to the Dean’s Discretionary Fund as a source of funding to attend conferences and other professional and career building events. The SBA strongly feels that the ability to attend these conferences and events as a means of building our professional network and career opportunities both personally and for Santa Clara Law as a whole is an essential part of the service that SCU Law should provide to its students. After discussing the matter, Dean Kloppenberg has agreed to review proposals submitted by students on an ad hoc basis through the office of Susan Erwin in Student Services. If you are interested in utilizing this resource, please submit your proposal to Susan Erwin at least two weeks in advance of the event. The Student Action Committee will also include a discussion of this in our first meeting, which will take place in the beginning of October (date TBD).

Second, we discussed including the cleaning of the Bannan Lounge fridge in SCU Law’s contract with facilities. Five years ago, our SBA successfully advocated for a student fridge to be included in the Bannan remodeling plans. Apparently, the inclusion of the fridge as a student initiative resulted in responsibility for its maintenance being placed on the students themselves. Hiring a law student or undergraduate assistant to clean the fridge has caused problems, with law student organization funding being available roughly two months after the start of the semester and SBA board turnovers occurring during the summer. Currently there is not a consistent and efficient means of maintaining the fridge and the SBA has advocated for its maintenance to be a part of the same cleaning service that the rest of Bannan Lounge receives in the interest of health and safety. Discussion on the progress of this initiative will also be included in the first Student Action Committee meeting.

Finally, Dean Kloppenberg has approved SCU Law’s hosting of the ABA Law Student Division 14th Circuit Spring Conference! Last Spring SCU Law was asked to host this year’s conference by the now 14th Circuit Governor. At the conference the student governor is elected and other ABA leadership opportunities are promoted. I am excited about the leadership and networking opportunities that will now be available to much more of our student body this year! More information soon.

I hope you have a great week!

Sincerely,

Lila C. Milford

We Women Warriors

Film Screening and Filmmaker Q & A

In Colombia's war-torn indigenous villages, three brave women from distinct tribes use nonviolent resistance to defend their peoples' survival. Warfare between the guerrillas, paramilitary groups, and armed forces imperils Colombia's 102 aboriginal groups, dozens of which face extinction because of the conflict.

The film screening will be followed by a skype Q&A with filmmaker Nicole Karsin.

PANELISTS:

Francisco J. Rivera Juaristi

Director, International Human Rights Clinic and Assistant Clinical Professor

Prior to coming to Santa Clara, Professor Rivera was an adjunct professor of international law and human rights at the Inter-American University of Puerto Rico. He is a former senior staff attorney at the Inter-American Court of Human Rights of the Organization of American States seated in Costa Rica, where he was also director of that court's internship program. In the late 1990s, he also served as Executive Director of the Amnesty International Section in Puerto Rico.

Britton Schwartz

International Human Rights Clinic

Prior to joining Santa Clara, Britton Schwartz was Staff Attorney as part of the Shriver Housing Project at Inner City Law Center. Britton has worked as an advocate for rural and indigenous communities in Arizona, California and Latin America, most recently on behalf of indigenous Peruvians as Peru Advocate for Amazon Watch.

David Sloss

Professor of Law, Director of the Center for Global Law & Policy

Professor Sloss is an internationally renowned scholar who has published two books and numerous law review articles addressing the application of international law in domestic courts. His scholarship in this area is informed by a decade of experience in the federal government, where he helped draft and negotiate several major international treaties. Professor Sloss serves frequently as a consultant for U.S. attorneys who seek advice on the domestic application of international law in U.S. courts.

Tseming Yang

Professor of Law, Faculty Director of Graduate Legal Programs

Before law teaching, Professor Yang served as an attorney at the U.S. Department of Justice's Environment and Natural Resources Division, practiced law with the firm of Latham and Watkins in San Francisco, and was a law clerk for the Honorable Rudi M. Brewster of the United States District Court for the Southern District of California.
