We will be making and decorating cards to be distributed out to refugee children all around the world but namely in Syria, Haiti and Sudan. Each card serves the purpose to send messages of hope, love and kindness to these children. We hope that each Santa Clara Law student will take 5 minutes out of their day to make a card to express Santa Clara Law's and Social Justice Coalition's goals of supporting global human solidarity and expressing compassion for other people's circumstances. During this event, Social Justice Coalition will be partnering with Women & Law in Bannan Lounge to also contribute to their Project Linus blanket-making activities. We hope that people who stop by to make a card also spend a couple of minutes working on a blanket too!
