FROM THE PRESIDENT

Greetings everyone,

Time to start thinking about next semester. This week student services will hold Academic Advising Week in the lounge. Take time to stop by and see what classes are offered next semester. 2Ls and part-time 3Ls, don't forget to make sure you are on track to graduate on time.

Last weekend marked the end of the lounge renovation with the unveiling of the bas relief. This week, the artist who created the sculpture will hold a meet the artist event in the lounge from 4 p.m. - 5 p.m.. The artist, Santa Clara Law graduate, Jerry Smith is a true Renaissance man. He served as the Mayor of Saratoga and was elected to the California State Senate where he served from 1974 - 1979. In late 1979, he was appointed to the California Court of Appeal. Since his retirement from the bench, he has become a prolific sculpture. He'd love to meet with students so come out if you have the time. Refreshments will be served.

This Friday from 6:30-10 PM please join SBA at the Law School Talent Show. There will be many memorable performances. I'm really looking forward to this event, please ask anyone on SBA if you have any questions! Lastly, SBA elections are coming up. The deadline to sign up to run is this Friday, and sign up sheets are in the lounge.

I hope everyone is getting ready for the final push. Have a great week,

Carlos Rosario

Biotech Law Group Presents: Wine and Cheese Mixer

Sponsored by Fenwick & West, LLP

Date: Thursday, March 31, 2011

Time: 5:30 - 8:00 p.m.

Location: Wiegand Foyer, Arts and Sciences Building

This is a unique opportunity for students and practitioners to meet in a casual setting and discuss their shared interest in biotech law.

If you wish to attend, please RSVP as soon as possible to BLG President, Jeff Smyth (jsmyth@scu.edu or \(408\) 960-4184). Your timely response will help us plan a balanced turnout of students and practitioners.

CGLP Special Speaker:

Justice Richard Goldstone

“International Criminal Justice: Recent Developments”

Richard Joseph Goldstone is a former Justice of the South African Constitutional Court and former Chief Prosecutor of the International Criminal Court for the Former Yugoslavia.

During the transition from apartheid to multiracial democracy in the early 1990s, he headed the influential Goldstone Commission investigations into political violence in South Africa. Goldstone's work investigating violence led directly to him being nominated to serve as the first chief prosecutor of the United Nations International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia and for Rwanda from August 1994 to September 1996. He prosecuted a number of key war crimes suspects, notably the Bosnian Serb political and military leaders, Radovan Karadžić and Ratko Mladić. On his return to South Africa he took up a seat on the newly-established Constitutional Court of South Africa, to which he had been nominated by President Nelson Mandela.

In 2009, Goldstone led a fact-finding mission created by the UN Human Rights Council to investigate international human rights and humanitarian law violations related to the Gaza War. The mission's findings that Israel and Hamas had both committed serious violations of the laws of war led to a major international controversy.

2011 SOCIAL JUSTICE LEADERSHIP SYMPOSIUM
Cultivating Social Justice Leadership: An Intergenerational Conversation
Examining the Social Justice Sector Leadership Challenge

April 15, 2011 - 8:30 a.m. - 1:30 p.m.
Santa Clara University
Bannan Hall 142

One of the biggest challenges facing nonprofits today is their dearth of strong leaders – a problem that's only going to get worse as the sector expands and baby boom executives retire. Over the next decade nonprofits will need to find some 640,000 new executives, nearly two and a half times the number currently employed. – Thomas J. Tierney, Stanford Social Innovation Review, Summer 2006

Addressing the needs and concerns of marginalized, subordinated, or underrepresented clients and causes has long required the resourcefulness of individuals working in concert. What tools have been successful in cultivating, training and retaining, leaders from within these communities and among other concerned people? What characteristics define social justice leaders? What role will new technologies play in movements for social change and how might leaders tap into these technologies?

This half-day Symposium will gather generations of social justice leaders and innovators to consider questions related to the social justice sector leadership challenge and to inform and inspire leaders of tomorrow.

Obtain registration forms at <http://www.law.scu.edu/socialjustice/leadership.cfm>, or the Center for Social Justice and Public Service, 3rd floor Bannan Hall. Contact Sandra Vega at svega@scu.edu or 408 551-1720 if you have any questions.
