3. Period of Study and Distribution of Units

Students pursuing the J.D. degree must complete the course of study within 48 months of matriculation. The Senior Assistant Dean for Student Services may extend this period not to exceed 12 months for good cause. Students pursuing the joint JD/MBA or JD/MSIS degree must complete the course of study within 60 months of matriculation.

Unless granted a leave of absence, students must enroll in no fewer than 8 and no more than 17 units in both the fall and spring semesters of each academic year. Students enrolling in no fewer than 8 and no more than 11 units during a semester are part-time students. Students enrolling in no fewer than 12 and no more than 17 units are full-time students. After completing the first year of law study as either a full- or a part-time student, a student may enroll either full-or part-time in any succeeding term. Whether you are full-time or part-time can affect your financial aid award so please plan accordingly.

4. Academic Good Standing

Students must be in academic good standing to be eligible for graduation. This requires a cumulative grade point average of 2.00 or above at the end of each academic year. To check your GPA, use the Degree Audit on eCampus until the end of summer 2023 and the Academic Progress Report in Workday starting in Fall 2023 or check your unofficial transcript.

5. Courses Required for Graduation

A. First-Year Program

Coursework totaling 28 units is prescribed for full-time students. Students in the part-time program take 21 units (deferring Civil Procedure and Critical Lawyering Skills to the second year). All part-time students, including those who transfer to full-time status after the first year must take their remaining first-year classes at night. Law Student Services will enroll students in Law 114A: Civil Procedure 1 and Law 465: Critical Lawyering Skills in Fall and LAW 114B: Civil Procedure 2 in Spring.
B. Advanced Curriculum
After the first year, all courses are elective, with the exception of Advocacy, Constitutional Law: Governmental Structure (formerly Constitutional Law I), Constitutional Law: Individual Rights (formerly Constitutional Law II), Evidence and Professional Responsibility.

Advocacy must be completed by the end of the second year and we strongly recommend that students take Constitutional Law: Governmental Structure and Constitutional Law: Individual Rights in their second year.

Advocacy is offered in summer and fall only. If you don’t take it in summer, you must take it in the fall of your second year.

6. Experiential Course Requirement
As a condition to graduation, each student must successfully complete one or more experiential course(s) totaling at least six credit hours. An experiential course is a simulation course, a law clinic, or a field placement that focuses on professional skills needed for competent and ethical participation as a member of the legal profession. Courses that satisfy this requirement will say “Experiential Course” in the notes field on the course schedule.

7. Regular Classroom Instruction Requirement
The law school’s accrediting agency requires that students complete at least 64 credit hours in regularly scheduled class sessions at the law school. Course units awarded for all field placements, Juvenile Justice courses, the Panetta Fellowship Program, individual research, course work completed in another department, and co-curricular activities such as journals, moot court, and trial competitions will not meet this requirement. Check your unofficial transcript, you can’t have more than 22 units in the types of classes listed above.
8. Upper Division Proficiency (UP) Points

1. The UP system will not apply to first-year students. The system focuses exclusively on the upper division.

2. Upper division courses eligible for proficiency points:
   - 200. Constitutional Law: Governmental Structure (formerly Constitutional Law I) (Required Course)
   - 201. Constitutional Law: Individual Rights (formerly Constitutional Law II) (Required Course)
   - 248. Business Organizations
   - 281. Wills & Trusts
   - 290. Community Property
   - 302. Professional Responsibility (Required Course)
   - 310. Criminal Procedure: Investigation
   - 311. Criminal Procedure: Adjudication (will not qualify for UP points starting Fall 2023)
   - 320. Evidence (Required Course)
   - 324. Remedies
   - 540. Advanced Torts
   - 543. Real Estate Conveyancing

3. The minimum grade necessary to earn a point: Students must receive a C+ or better in an UP-eligible course to earn one UP point.

4. Expected number of UP points: Except as provided in paragraph 6, students are expected to earn at least 4 points in UP-eligible courses.

5. Monitoring Student Progress Toward Completion of the UP Requirement:
   a. All upper division students are required to enroll in four or more UP-eligible classes prior to the completion of 54 units. The typical full-time student will enroll in two UP-eligible classes each semester until the UP Point requirement is satisfied. The typical part-time student will enroll in one UP-eligible class during their 2L fall semester, and two UP-eligible classes each semester thereafter until the UP Point requirement is satisfied. Students who have earned exactly three UP points are required to enroll in at least one UP-eligible class in the following semester. Deviations from this typical approach must be approved by Law Student Services in consultation with the Office of Academic & Bar Success. All JD/MBA and JD/MSIS students must seek approval for their course schedules from Law Student Services each term.
b. Students must take all UP-eligible courses for a grade until after they have successfully earned four UP points.

c. For students who have completed 54 units or more, the Law Student Services Office will compute the number of UP points that each student has earned in upper division courses as of the first day of each new semester. Any student who has earned fewer than three points in upper division courses will be required to enroll in at least two UP-eligible classes during that semester.

d. All students who fail to earn at least three UP points in upper division courses by the time they have completed 54 units will be required to complete 373b, Advanced Legal Writing: Bar Exam in their final semester before they graduate from law school, and receive individual counseling from a faculty member from the Office of Academic and Bar Success.

6. Students who fail to earn at least four points in UP-eligible courses by the time they have completed 68 units will be required:

   a. Concurrent with their enrollment in Advanced Legal Writing: Bar Exam (in their final semester), enroll in and successfully complete Law 702, an additional 0-unit supplemental course to 373b devoted to enhanced bar exam preparation; and

   b. Continue to enroll in a sufficient number of UP-eligible courses to satisfy the 4-point requirement (and take those courses for a grade)—provided, no student shall be required to enroll in more than 2 UP-eligible courses in one semester.

Transfer students may receive UP credit for course work completed at their home school as long as they have taken an UP-eligible class and received a C+ or higher as an upper-division student. Students may not receive UP credit for a course, even if it is categorized as UP-eligible, if it was taken as part of the first-year curriculum at the school from which they transferred.

With prior approval from the senior assistant dean for student services, students may enroll in a course at another law school that would be UP-point eligible at the School of Law. Such students may receive UP credit for this course work so long as they have taken a course geared towards upper-division students and received a C+ or higher. Students may not receive UP credit for a course, even if it is categorized as UP-eligible, if it was taken as part of the first-year curriculum at the other law school. Please refer to the section titled, Visiting at Other Law Schools, for details.

9. Ethical Good Standing

Students must be in ethical good standing at the time of graduation. Graduation may be denied or delayed based on charges or findings of academic dishonesty or moral turpitude. Note: all students will have to also pass a Moral Character Determination by the State Bar Association prior to being sworn in as an attorney. If you have questions about your moral character application or your good standing, make a confidential appointment with the Interim Senior Assistant Dean for Student Services. Contact LawStudentServices@scu.edu to schedule an appointment.
10. Graduation with Honors

Students must have received letter grades in graded courses totaling at least 65 units (50 units for transfer students and for students spending one year visiting at another law school) to graduate with honors.

The categories are as follows:
- Top 2 percent = summa cum laude
- Next 3 percent = magna cum laude
- Next 5 percent = cum laude

Order of the Coif: The School of Law is a member of the Order of the Coif, a nationally recognized legal honor society. Students receiving honors at graduation will be inducted into the Order.

11. Directed Study

Students with a GPA of 2.0 - 3.0 after their first year

Students finishing the first year of law study with an unrounded cumulative GPA of 2.0-3.0 and students readmitted to the Law School following successful completion of the California First-Year Law Students’ Examination after first year disqualification, are subject to the Directed Study policy. Students subject to the Directed Study policy remain subject to the policy until graduation regardless of improvements in their GPA.

Students subject to the Directed Study policy must, like all students, successfully complete all required courses and other graduation requirements and in addition, must:

a. Successfully complete Legal Analysis (373a) by the end of their second year in law school

b. Meet with a faculty member from the Office of Academic and Bar Success as soon as feasible after being identified as subject to the policy, to discuss (a) the reasons for their being subjected to the policy, (b) the purpose of the policy, and (c) class scheduling for their ensuing years in law school.
12. Distance Education Credit Limitations

Santa Clara Law’s J.D. program is not a Distance Education J.D. Program, which means that student participation in online courses is subject to limitations set forth by the ABA. Specifically, ABA Standard 311 provides that a law school that does not offer a J.D. degree via distance education:

1. may grant a student up to one-third of the credit hours required for the J.D. degree for Distance Education Courses; and

2. up to 10 of those credit hours may be granted during the first one-third of a student’s program of legal education.

To assist students in complying with the ABA Distance Education standards, starting in Summer 2023, the law school will designate courses as Distance Education at the time of registration.

Faculty teaching those courses which have not been designated as Distance Education at the time of registration will make every attempt to ensure any remote instruction does not exceed one-third of the class time. However, in rare extenuating circumstances, a course may need to be moved to online, and changed to a Distance Education course, mid-semester. If that occurs, students will be notified immediately.

The ABA Standards provide an exception for students attending courses remotely with accommodations provided under law (such as the Americans with Disabilities Act) or other exceptional circumstances. If you wish to seek an accommodation, contact the Office of Accessible Education at Santa Clara University.
The Degree Audit is available in eCampus until the end of Summer 2023. The Academic Progress Report in Workday will replace the Degree Audit in Fall 2023. Detailed information regarding the Academic Progress Report in Workday will be sent closer to Fall registration.

You are responsible for knowing all the academic regulations affecting your program of study and for completing all degree requirements as set forth by the School of Law. Failure to understand these regulations and requirements does not relieve you of this responsibility.

What is the Degree Audit Report?
The degree audit is an unofficial advising report/tool designed to assist you in tracking your degree progress. It lists requirements that you must complete under your current program of study.

If you have been given a requirement exception, substitution or waiver that does not appear on your degree audit report or if you believe there are errors in your degree audit report, please contact the Student Services Office (LawStudentServices@scu.edu).

Where can I find my Degree Audit Report? How do I see the requirements that are unsatisfied?
You can find your degree audit report in your eCampus account. Click on the Academics tile:

The second tab on the menu should say “New Degree Audit”:
When you click on this tab, your most updated report will appear. On first view, only the requirements that are unsatisfied will be expanded. Requirements that are collapsed are satisfied.

A. Date of last report

B. Collapse and Expand all of the Requirements

C. View Report as PDF (see below for more explanation)

D. Unsatisfied requirement

E. Satisfied requirement (to see more details, such as how this requirement was fulfilled, click the arrow to expand)
There is also a printable version of the degree audit report. Click the “View Report as PDF” on the right hand side at the top of degree audit report. This will open a new tab with a PDF version of your degree audit. This is the only version that is easily printable.

RELEVANT RULES AND INFORMATION.

Please consult the Law School Bulletin for detailed information.

Inquiries regarding registration and class changes should be directed to the Law Student Services Office, lawstudentservices@scu.edu.

IMPORTANT: No student will receive academic credit for any course unless he/she is officially registered in the course. Every student who registers for academic credit in a course and who does not formally withdraw – officially through the Law Student Services Office - before the last day of the semester or summer session in which the course was taken shall receive a grade in the course and will be liable for tuition. Students who do not officially drop and do not sit for the final exam will be graded accordingly. As used here the word “course” is meant in its most inclusive sense and refers to a class, seminar, clinical research project, or any other undertaking whatsoever in which a student is registered for academic credit.

After you finish adding and dropping, be sure to check your schedule and make sure that you are registered for what you think you are.

Course Load

First-year students may not take less than the full schedule of courses prescribed by the faculty. Second- and third-year students must enroll in not fewer than 8 and not more than 17 units in both the fall and spring semesters of each academic year. Students enrolling in not fewer than 8 and not more than 11 units during a semester are part-time students during that semester. Students enrolling in not fewer than 12 and not more than 17 units are full-time students during that semester. Beyond the first year, students are free to take classes in either the day or evening. However, all part-time students, including those who transfer to full-time status after the first year must take their remaining first-year classes at night. Law Student Services will enroll students in Law 114A: Civil Procedure 1 and Law 465: Critical Lawyering Skills in Fall and LAW 114B: Civil Procedure 2 in Spring.

Whether you are full-time or part-time affects your financial aid award so please plan accordingly.

Course Time Conflicts

Students may not register for regular courses if meeting times overlap in whole or in part. Not even a five-minute overlap will be allowed. Students should not seek professor approval for registration in overlapping courses.
Adding Classes
Students may add classes through the last day of the add/drop period, and drop classes through the last day of the fourth week of a semester.

1. No student will receive academic credit for any course unless he/she is officially registered in the course. Academic credit will be given for courses only during regular academic terms.

2. Some classes may require instructor or dean approval to enroll. Some classes will have special enrollment procedures. These classes are noted as such on the registration materials.

3. The School of Law has established wait list procedures for adding closed classes. Students must follow these procedures and should not seek instructor approval for adding a class.

4. Late adds should submit the Late Registration form with appropriate approvals to the Law Student Services Office. Students will be required to pre-pay for units added after the add/drop period.

Dropping Classes

1. Students may drop any upper-division course without professor approval through the fourth week of the semester. It is the student’s responsibility to know the tuition and fee refund provisions.

2. After the fourth week of the semester, classes may be dropped only with the professor’s signature and the approval of the Senior Assistant Dean for Student Services.

3. After the 10th week of the semester, classes may be dropped for good cause shown and only with the permission of the Senior Assistant Dean for Student Services.

4. During the last week of classes, the Senior Assistant Dean will give permission to drop a course only upon a student’s written petition documenting reasons why taking the scheduled examination or requesting a delayed examination would impose an undue and unforeseen hardship on the student.

5. After the last class day of the semester, but before and up to the date of the regularly scheduled final examination, all requests to drop a course will be referred to the dean or his/her delegate. Permission to drop a class after classes have ended, but before the scheduled examination, will be granted by the dean only after further consultation with the instructor and only under extraordinary circumstances.

6. No class may be dropped after the regularly scheduled final examination is administered. In the case of courses requiring a paper or other non-examination requirement, no class may be dropped after the last day of classes.

7. First-year students may not drop classes except in extraordinary circumstances.

8. Students who stop attending a class and do not complete the formal drop process are subject to receiving an “F” grade and are liable for tuition.

9. Students who do not take a final examination or complete required work may receive an “F” grade.
10. Check the section titled, Tuition Refund Policy and Processes at http://law.scu.edu/bulletin/financial-information/. To ensure a full tuition refund, students must drop the first week of classes.

Tuition Liability

The initial due date for summer tuition is always May 21st. The initial tuition due date for fall is always July 21st. The initial tuition due date for spring is always December 21st. Students must arrange payment by these dates in order to avoid a late payment fee, regardless of whether or not the student receives notification from the university. Students who drop a course during the first week of the semester will be eligible for a 100% tuition refund for that course. Students who drop a course after the first week and before the end of the fourth week may be eligible for a partial tuition refund. Set an auto-reminder each month to check your account. If you owe any money, be sure to make your payment by the due date and keep your account clear of holds and late fees.

Wait Lists

Wait lists are formed after a particular class is closed; wait lists determine the priority for enrollment as seats become available. During the initial registration period, students confronted with a closed class should add their names to the wait list immediately. Once on a wait list, students should register for an alternate class.

Summer 2023: If a seat becomes available, an email will be sent to eligible students’ SCU e-mail accounts informing them of their eligibility and the expiration date of their eligibility status. After 11:59 pm on the eligibility date indicated, the permission will expire and the available seat will be offered to the next student on the list.

The final wait list is run on the last Thursday of the add/drop period. The next day, Friday, any classes with seats still open will be made available to students on a first-come, first-served basis through eCampus.

Fall 2023: The process in Workday will be different from eCampus. Information about waitlists in Workday will be sent closer to fall registration.

Individual Research

Students may receive academic credit for research under the supervision of a faculty member. To do so, students must select, contact, and reach agreement with the faculty member on the topic, unit value, time of completion, and other expectations for the project prior to beginning project work.

Students may take no more than 3 units of individual research with any particular faculty member in any particular semester or summer session. Work is graded on a CR/NC basis only. Students must register for individual research as follows:

1. Up to the end of the second week of classes, students may add Individual Research (298) through the Student Services Office with instructor permission if (a) the student has satisfied the provisions relating to prior consultation with the instructor to define the project, and (b) there appears to be no positive reason for denying the request. Students must obtain the professor’s signature on the Individual Research agreement form and submit it to the Student Services Office.
2. Beginning with the third week of classes, students may add Individual Research (298) only with the written approval of the senior assistant dean for student services. The dean will consult with the instructor and approve the addition of Individual Research if the project has been fully defined, the student has made substantial supervised progress on the project, and it appears that the student will be able to complete the project by the end of the semester or within a reasonable time immediately thereafter. Students may not add Individual Research after the semester has been completed.

Students who register for Individual Research and do not formally withdraw before the last day of the semester or summer session in which the course was taken shall receive a CR/NC grade in the course. Students must submit all material that will be the subject of the Individual Research grade at a time specified by the professor. In no event shall this be later than the end of the exam period of the semester during which Individual Research was undertaken.

Academic Holds

Students with holds on their records or accounts will not be able to register. It is the student’s responsibility to clear holds with the appropriate office in order to register. Students who miss registration priority due to holds will not be given special consideration. Possible holds are:

- Registration holds due to an unpaid balance on the student’s account.
- Financial Aid holds due to missing information or paperwork.
- Cowell Health Center holds due to missing insurance information or waiver forms.
- Law Student Services holds due to missing transcripts, MOU or other required paperwork.
- Law Student Services holds due to a leave of absence or visiting away status.
- Law Student Services holds for failure to complete mandatory training.
- Campus Safety Services holds due to on-campus parking tickets.
- Office of Academic and Bar Success holds due to failure to attend mandatory meetings.
- Law Library holds due to unpaid fines or unreturned books.

To check if you have a hold, log in to your student account.

Status Change

Upon satisfactory completion of the first year of study, students may transfer between full-time and part-time status. Part-time students who transfer to full-time status after the first year must take their remaining first-year classes at night. Law Student Services will enroll students in Law 114A: Civil Procedure 1 and Law 465: Critical Lawyering Skills in Fall and LAW 114B: Civil Procedure 2 in Spring. We strongly recommend that any student, who is enrolled as a full-time student, limit their work to 20 hours per week or fewer.

Exam Rescheduling

Exams are rescheduled for a date following the regularly scheduled exam and not before the class scheduled exam; they are postponed. A rescheduled exam will be placed in the next available exam slot that does not create a conflict. Students must petition for an exam reschedule by the posted deadline. Under no circumstances should the rescheduling of an examination be discussed with the instructor of the course.
An exam may be rescheduled for one of the following reasons only:

Administrative Conflict

1. Any exam scheduled to start within 24 hours of another in-class exam.
   An example of a valid administrative conflict: 1:30PM exam on Monday followed by a 9:00AM exam on Tuesday.
   An example of an invalid administrative conflict: 9:00AM exam on Monday followed by a 9:00AM exam on Tuesday.

2. Three exams scheduled over three consecutive days (72 hours).

It is at the discretion of the Office of Assessment which course exam is rescheduled. Priority is set at a senior administrative level.

IMPORTANT: For the fall and spring semesters students must request an administrative reschedule within the first eight weeks of the start of the semester. Summer students must request a reschedule within the first four weeks of the start of the session. Requests must be submitted through the Exam Reschedule Request form. Late requests may not be approved.

Personal Conflict

1. The student’s serious illness or other documented medical emergencies

2. Extraordinary and compelling reasons beyond the student’s control

The student must submit a request for rescheduling of the exam to the Office of Assessment as soon as possible, but prior to the scheduled start of the exam. The director of assessment determines whether the exam will be rescheduled. All final exams must be completed within 30 days of the original exam date.

Note: Students who are ill at the time of their exam should consult the head proctor prior to opening their exam packet. Once students see the exam, it is not possible to reschedule.

THE BAR
Admissions Requirements

Individuals must be licensed in order to practice law in the United States. Every state has its own requirements for licensure; almost all require an applicant to pass the state’s general bar exam, pass the Multistate Professional Responsibility Examination (MPRE), and establish his or her character and fitness for practice in that state.

Admission to the State Bar of California: The following information applies to those intending to practice law in California. Students should review the summary and detailed requirements for admission to the State Bar of California at http://www.calbar.ca.gov/Admissions.

- During the first year: Each student must register as a law student in California. All law students must register with the State Bar within 90 days of beginning law study in California. Registration is completed through the State Bar website at http://www.calbar.ca.gov/Admissions. Not sure if you did this? Call the State Bar’s Admissions Office at 415-538-2300.

- During the second year:
  - Students transferring to SCU must register as law students with the State Bar within 90 days of beginning law study at Santa Clara. Students transferring to SCU from another California law school must inform the State Bar of this change. Registration is completed through the State Bar website at http://www.calbar.ca.gov/Admissions.
  - Students should plan to take the Multistate Professional Responsibility Examination (MPRE) which is given every March, August, and October. It is recommended that students take this exam after completion of the Professional Responsibility course in their second or third year. Applications are available on the National Conference of Bar Examiners website at http://www.ncbex.org/exams/mpre/.

- During the third year:
  - Students should apply for the Moral Character review. The Moral Character investigation process and form is available on the State Bar website at http://www.calbar.ca.gov/Admissions. The Moral Character investigation is totally separate from the Bar Exam application (separate forms, fees, and deadlines). Plan on turning in your application before the beginning of the final year of law school. If you believe that you may have issues with your Moral Character review, you are encouraged to seek early advice from the Office of Academic & Bar Success or Law Student Services.
  - Students should apply to take the Bar Exam, which is administered over a two-day period during the last week of July or February. Applications are due approximately four months before each test date, and are available on the State Bar website at...
Questions concerning admission to the State Bar of California not answered on their website, http://www.calbar.ca.gov/Admissions, should be directed to the Committee of Bar Examiners at 415-538-2300.

Uniform Bar Exam (UBE): Students planning to practice in states other than California should consult the individual admissions requirements of those states. A list of state admissions offices is available at http://www.ncbex.org/. Forty-one jurisdictions in the US, not including California, administer the Uniform Bar Exam. Earning a score in one jurisdiction means that the score may be transferred to another UBE jurisdiction subject to local rules. This mobility means added opportunities for employment after graduation and in the future. Bar admission in a UBE jurisdiction is often sufficient for many legal careers in California where making court appearances isn’t a job requirement.

The Office of Academic & Bar Success provides extensive support to students preparing for the Bar Exam. The Office maintains many resources to assist in Bar Exam preparation and in the selection of a Bar Exam preparation course. Visit the ASP Resource Room in Charney 216 or http://emery.scu.edu/students/success. Faculty advisors are available to work with students on their individual preparation for the Bar Exam.

The Office administers Advanced Legal Writing: Bar Exam, a 2-unit course focused on multiple-choice ("MBE") strategy and practice, and essay exam writing. All students are strongly encouraged to enroll in ALW during their final semester of law school.

The Office also sponsors a number of no-cost Bar-readiness programs and workshops throughout the academic year and summer as a part of BRICS (Bar Resources, Instruction, Coaching, and Support.) BRICS programming includes lectures by subject-matter experts on the doctrinal law that is tested on the Bar Exam.

CENTERS

THE CENTER FOR GLOBAL LAW & POLICY

Santa Clara Law offers its students a broad spectrum of academic and experiential opportunities for exploring the fields of international and comparative law.

Academic Opportunities: Throughout the academic year, we offer many courses on diverse topics related to international and comparative law. We offer summer abroad classes in nine countries across Asia, Europe, Central America and Australia where we teach a range of topics of international study. We have semester exchange agreements with several law schools in Central and South America, Europe and Asia, enabling students to take up to twelve (12) units studying overseas at one of our partner institutions. During the school year, the Center for Global Law and Policy hosts several speakers and conferences that enrich the intellectual environment of the law school.

Experiential Opportunities: Those who seek experiential learning opportunities can pursue summer externships in over thirty locations across Europe, Asia, Australia, Africa, Central and South America and the Caribbean, or seek semester-long externships working for international organizations and law firms during the fall or spring semesters.

Summer Study Abroad

The Center for Global Law and Policy (CGLP) offers summer abroad classes in nine (9) countries across Asia, Europe, Australia and Central America. Our classes are taught by notable overseas faculty at some leading institutions abroad. In connection with our summer programs, we offer summer externship placements in over thirty (30) locations at international organizations, top local firms, corporate legal departments, government organizations and NGOs, providing students practicum opportunities for academic credit in a foreign legal environment. A student can earn up to eight (8) units of credit in the summer through our study abroad programs. See http://law.scu.edu/international/summer-abroad

Semester Abroad Exchange Program

CGLP has semester exchange agreements with numerous law schools in Europe, Central and South America and Asia. Under these agreements, students from Santa Clara can study for a semester at our partner institute overseas, earning up to twelve (12) units. Some of these programs could lead to a foreign degree at a reduced rate and for a shorter period. See http://law.scu.edu/international/semester-abroad.
Semester Externship Program

Students who might wish to spend a semester working overseas should contact CGLP to discuss the possibility of earning up to twelve (12) units in an externship placement overseas. Information about overseas externships is available at http://law.scu.edu/international/international-externships or under the “Legal Skills ... Externships” section of this book.

International Human Rights Clinic

Students have the opportunity to gain practical, hands-on experience in international human rights lawyering by participating in the International Human Rights Clinic. The clinic focuses primarily on human rights in the Americas. To learn more about the clinic, please see http://law.scu.edu/ihrc/.

International Certificate programs

Students who wish to specialize in international law can earn a certificate in one of two areas of specialization. To satisfy the International Certificate requirements, students must choose at least one of the following two specializations: Public International Law or International Business Law. A student earns the International Law Certificate “with honors” if the student satisfies all of the applicable requirements and has an overall grade point average of B+ (3.67) or better in units counted towards the certificate. Detailed information is available at http://law.scu.edu/international/international-law-certificate/

International Moot Court Competitions

Santa Clara Law school students compete every year in at least one international moot court competition. Possible competitions include: the Philip C. Jessup International Moot Court Competition, the Jean Pictet International Humanitarian Law Moot Court Competition, and the Clara Barton International Humanitarian Law Competition. These competitions provide a tremendous opportunity for in depth exploration of a particular area of international law. Students also cultivate their skills in written and oral advocacy. See http://law.scu.edu/mootcourt/moot-court-external/ for information on this year’s competitions.

International Law Faculty & Curriculum

Santa Clara Law brings international and comparative law expertise through its excellent faculty, teaching a diverse curriculum to meet the needs of the new generation of global lawyers. Information about our law faculty can be accessed at http://law.scu.edu/international/international-law-faculty and course offerings can be viewed at http://law.scu.edu/international/international-law-curriculum.

Programming & Events

CGLP hosts visiting international scholars, numerous speakers and sponsors several conferences throughout the academic year to promote informed discussion and enhance awareness about current issues related to international law and U.S. foreign policy. CGLP events are open to all SCU students, faculty, staff, and alumni, as well as to the community at large. Serve Community Needs for Social Justice While Studying Law

The Center provides students with a legal education that instills a commitment to social justice, public interest, and public service. While not all attorneys specialize in this area, the opportunity to serve others is an important experience in your legal education. The Center builds a community for students, faculty, lawyers, and others who share a commitment to marginalized, subordinated, or underrepresented clients and causes.

PUBLIC INTEREST & SOCIAL JUSTICE LAW CERTIFICATE
Students may graduate with a Certificate in Public Interest and Social Justice Law. To earn the certificate, students must complete requirements in three categories: academic work; supervised practicum work; and volunteer public service. Students may earn a general certificate or may elect a special emphasis in criminal justice, immigration law, or other areas. For certificate requirements visit law.scu.edu/socialjustice/certificate-and-curriculum.

SOCIAL JUSTICE SUMMER GRANTS
Through funding from generous donors, the Center provides financial support to students for summer social justice and public interest work through the following programs: Richard P. & Made S. Berg Social Justice Public Interest Summer Grant, Stevens Fellowship, Gluck Fellowship, LGBT Legal Issues Summer Grant, Supriya Bhat Public Defender Summer Grant, and the Public Interest Social Justice Law Board Summer Grants. For specific grant guidelines and applications, see http://law.scu.edu/socialjustice/public-interest-summer-grants-general-information/

HERMAN AND EDITH WILDMAN SOCIAL JUSTICE LAW WRITING AWARD
The Wildman Social Justice Law Writing Award annually honors the best student essay on a public interest and social justice law topic. Mapping Your Coursework to Your Career Plan
Office of Career Management (OCM)

Whether you know what you want to do with your law degree or you do not (and it is absolutely fine if you do not), we encourage you to work with OCM to develop a career plan. We can help you through the process of identifying and aligning your skills, values, and interests, as well as exploring different career paths, and helping you to develop a plan for moving forward.

Start Now!
You don’t need to decide on your specific career path as a 1L. However, you do need to identify areas of interest, build the skills any legal employer would want and need, and begin to test out potential areas of interest through your coursework, experiential opportunities, and more.

Step 1: Identify Areas of Interest
Are there particular classes you’ve taken that you enjoy? Have you spoken with or observed a lawyer who you thought that you’d like to do what they do? Identify one to three areas of law/types of jobs that you want to learn more about.

Step 2: Determine courses and experiential and/or extracurricular opportunities (student organizations, journals, moot court, etc.) that are available and relate to your areas of interest.
Make a list of the opportunities you want to participate in that are relevant to your areas of interest. Note any prerequisites or issues related to timing that you need to take into consideration. Treat your career development like a class and do a little bit every week. Consistency over intensity is the key. Try to include at least one opportunity per semester (including summers) in areas that interest you to determine if you want to continue to learn more about that area.

Step 3: Market Yourself and Your Interests
Your cover letter and resume are key to marketing yourself. LinkedIn and Bronco Exchange are other great tools. Check out the Resource Library on CORE for sample resumes, cover letters, networking tips, etc.

Step 4: Keep At It
Be persistent. Keep exploring classes, talk to people to learn more about different practice areas, attend employer information panels and networking events, check out our clinics and centers, volunteer, and try different summer experiences. You will find something that interests you and OCM is here to help every step of the way.

LEGAL SKILLS

ENTREPRENEURS' LAW CLINIC

Interested in exploring ways to help the Silicon Valley entrepreneur community with legal issues? Looking for opportunities to put what you’ve learned so far into practice in Santa Clara Law’s only exclusively transactional-law clinic? This clinic could be a perfect fit for you. Students in the Entrepreneurs’ Law Clinic provide legal services to entrepreneurs and start-up companies. Students enjoy substantial and meaningful contact with their clients, which is a different experience than working as an intern or extern in a law firm setting.

ELC students engage in projects such as entity formation, business transactions, compliance, and IP counseling. However, students meet with their clients in the first few weeks of class and propose their own projects based on their interests and the client’s priorities. Like all clinics, this clinic is a “safe space” whereby students can learn valuable on-the-job skills, but under the supervision of a faculty member instead of a hiring attorney. The ELC focuses on the competencies of creative problem solving, initiative, and interpersonal skills, which may be a refreshing change from more traditional law school coursework.

Students in the ELC are introduced to experienced practicing attorneys in Silicon Valley. Networking with these professionals has been instrumental in helping students obtain connections, internships, and jobs.

Now that you’re interested, how do you sign up? The ELC is a 3-credit course you must register for like all other courses in law school. In addition, there is an application procedure. Please submit all required materials here: https://law.scu.edu/elc/elc-student-application/. Priority is given to applications that are received no later than ONE WEEK BEFORE registration week starts. We will continue to accept applications after this date, however. Once you have been selected for the course, you will receive a permission number. ELC B is for advanced students who have already taken ELC in a previous semester, and have received permission from the Director to continue to work on client projects in a follow-on semester. ELC B is not necessarily offered every semester, and cannot be taken concurrently with the ELC.

The ELC is offered 3 semesters a year. We intend to give everyone a chance to take the clinic during their studies at SCU. If you aren’t accepted the first time you apply, it may be because priority was given to graduating 3L’s. Do not be discouraged; please apply again if not accepted the first time.

Broncos Entrepreneurs Advisory Clinic Hours (BEACH)
The BEACH offers volunteer opportunities for all SCU Law students - no experience necessary! Through this volunteer opportunity, you will gain valuable client-facing experience, as well as have an opportunity to build a relationship with the many attorney mentors in the program. This is an experiential learning opportunity, which will help you gain real-world experience. It is not for credit, nor is it paid.

Key objectives:
- Help provide pro bono legal consulting services to entrepreneurs and small business owners, targeting underserved communities.
- Learn to conduct informational intake interviews, legal research, and delivering legal opinions from skilled business attorneys.
- Gain experience through interacting with real clients seeking legal advice on real issues facing startups and small businesses.
This is a great experience to add to your resume. To volunteer register here, https://share.hsforms.com/1eKD4_vq9S7iPEKW4Tw6xQwbc5I

KATHARINE & GEORGE ALEXANDER COMMUNITY LAW CENTER

The Katharine & George Alexander Community Law Center (KGACLC) is the Law School’s oldest and largest civil clinical program, and provides opportunities for students to develop and strengthen their lawyering skills, while directly serving the community in one of the three areas of specialization listed below. As a community-based center, the KGACLC is located about two miles from campus, near downtown San Jose, and serves clients from throughout the Santa Clara County region.

Courses

Two types of courses are offered: (1) introductory and advanced skills classes focusing on litigation skills and the representation of clients, and (2) interviewing and counseling clinics focusing on one area of practice. Students enrolled in the Litigation Skills I course can handle cases earning 3 to 6 units of credit (approximately 50 hours of case work required for each unit of credit), while students enrolled in one of the interviewing and counseling courses can earn 1 or 2 units of credit, depending on the clinic. Students who have completed the basic Skills I class may return to the Community Law Center for advanced training and case work in the Litigation Skills II class.

Practice Areas

Students focus on one of the following practice areas:

- Consumer Law: Students enrolled in a Skills class handle cases and matters involving auto fraud, unfair credit and debt collection practices, debt settlement scams, telemarketing sales abuses, unfair lending practices, and other unfair business practices. At interviewing and counseling clinics (1 credit), students counsel clients in all aspects of consumer law and debtors’ rights.

- Workers’ Rights: Students enrolled in the interviewing and counseling clinics counsel clients on all areas of employment law and may do follow up work such as drafting claims filed with government agencies or writing demand letters, and students receive additional weekly training in all aspects of employment law and mediation of employment law claims. The interviewing and counseling clinical class in workers’ rights is offered for 2 credits, but students can enroll in additional units of independent study.

- Immigration: Students enrolled in a Skills class represent low-income clients in applications for U visas (as victims of crimes), T visas (as victims of human trafficking), adjustment to permanent residence from T and U visas, as well as motion practice in deportation proceedings. Students assist immigrant victims of domestic violence with self-petitions for lawful permanent residency and assist abandoned immigrant children in obtaining residency. At interviewing and counseling clinics (1 credit), students counsel individuals in all aspects of immigration law.

Credit

All KGACLC classes fulfill the professional skills requirement and are Public Interest and Social Justice Law Certificate courses. Clinical units are not categorized as Externship units, so participation in any of the classes offered at KGACLC will not count against SCU’s limits on credits that can be earned through Externships.
Litigation Skills Grading: The first 3 units of credit in the Litigation Skills I course are on a letter-grade basis; any additional units are graded on a Credit/No Credit basis only. While not required, it is strongly suggested that during the student’s first semester at KGACLC, the students register for four or more units. For the Litigation Skills II class, the first 2 units are letter-graded, and the remaining units are subject to Credit/No Credit.

Interviewing and Counseling Grading: The Workers’ Rights interviewing and counseling class is letter-graded; the Immigration and Consumer classes are graded on a Credit/No Credit basis.

Required Orientation and Training

All students enrolled in either the 3-6 unit KGACLC Litigation Skills I course or an interviewing and counseling course must attend an intensive all-day skills training program, usually held on the Saturday of the first week of classes for the semester.

Registering for KGACLC Courses

Students register for the courses through eCampus (summer 2023). Students should also complete a brief KGACLC information form. Forms are available in the Law Student Services Office and at: http://emery.scu.edu/students/student-services/forms/alexander-law-center-application/. Submit completed forms to Dianne Blakely, the Administrative Director of the Community Law Center at dblakely@scu.edu. These courses have limited enrollment; early registration is encouraged. The Litigation Skills I class is offered every semester (fall, spring and summer); during the summer session the practice areas are limited.

Protect Human Rights. Get Credit.

1. Why take this class?
   - In the words of our students: “The IHRC will be the highlight of your law school career!” Seriously.

2. What do students do in this course?
   - Learn to practice law.
   - Develop practical and transferable professional skills.
   - Litigate and advocate locally and internationally.
   - Research. Write. Investigate. Figure things out. Talk to actual people. Submit briefs. You know, do what lawyers do!

3. “Human rights.” That’s like, the U.N., right?
   - Yes, but it’s also about the Black Lives Matter movement, environmental racism throughout the U.S., the wage gap in Santa Clara county, homelessness in Mountain View, torture, Guantánamo, the death penalty, freedom of speech, and any other social justice issue you care about right here at home.
4. What if I don’t want to practice international law?
   - Nobody’s perfect. But even corporate law firms require you to have legal experience and professional skills such as client communication, fact-finding, legal research and writing, oral communication, professionalism, project management, and teamwork. Here’s where you can get those skills! And you can put all that on your résumé!

5. Do students get to travel?
   - Typically, yes. IHRC students frequently travel to meet our clients, investigate situations of human rights abuse, and participate in various international forums, including the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights in Washington, D.C., and the United Nations. Oh yeah, we’ve also gone to Jamaica, Dominican Republic, Puerto Rico, Geneva, Peru, Nicaragua, Mexico, Colombia, and… Sacramento!

9. Does this course meet the skills requirement? The public international law certificate? The social justice certificate?
   - Yes. Yes. And Yes!

10. What is the student / faculty ratio?
    - Typically, 8:1 for the classroom component, and between 1 - 4:1 for cases and projects. (Can you say “personalized letter of recommendation”?)

11. Will this course help me get a job?
    - Yes! (Tip: Any clinical experience will help you get a job.)

12. Awesome! Where do I sign up?
    - Submit an online application and receive a permission number.
    - Visit http://law.scu.edu/ihrc/ or talk to IHRC Director Francisco Rivera: FJRivera@scu.edu. 408-554-4770 or IHRC Deputy Director Britton Schwartz: bschwartz@scu.edu, 408-551-1827.

IMMIGRATION APPELLATE PRACTICE CLINIC

In the Immigration Appellate Practice Clinic, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit appoints Santa Clara Law to represent pro se petitioners for review in immigration cases. Clinic students establish a relationship with their clients, review the administrative record, write an appellate brief, and present oral argument before the Ninth Circuit.

Students find their experiences in the Immigration Appellate Clinic to be highly rewarding. The issues we address are fascinating, if extremely challenging, and we provide a very real service to individuals and to the Court. Our clients would otherwise not have representation, and they often have compelling cases that have not been adequately explained or supported before the administrative bodies. Both students and professor are strongly affected and moved by the work we are privileged to do in this clinic. In addition, the Court has issued a number of precedent decisions in our cases, thus affecting future cases as well.

As past clinic students express it: "The course was one of the most valuable courses that I've taken in law school. I learned so much about the appellate process and how to be a more effective writer." "This clinic is an amazing opportunity to do real and challenging work. It is immensely intense and rewarding. I highly recommend it."

For more information, please send an e-mail to Prof. Abriel (eabriel@scu.edu).

Description

The Northern California Innocence Project (NCIP) is a law school clinical program that provides a unique educational opportunity for law students to investigate and help litigate possible wrongful convictions, and to promote legal reforms to address and remedy systemic problems within our criminal justice system. Supervised by experienced attorneys, NCIP clinic students evaluate innocence claims by reviewing case histories, appellate briefs, transcripts, and other records. They participate in the investigation process by interviewing incarcerated people, witnesses, crime lab personnel, law enforcement, defense attorneys, and prosecutors. As part of their case work, NCIP students draft legal documents including motions, declarations, briefs, legal memoranda, and letters to attorneys, clients, and case rounds memos. Students also attend and participate in court proceedings.

Credit

NCIP is a yearlong, two semester program (Fall and Spring semesters), available to 2L and 3L students. Students enroll for at least three units of academic credit per semester. For each unit of credit, a student is responsible for 50 hours of participation, including case work and class attendance. In order to be eligible to enroll in the NCIP clinic, students must submit an application by 5pm, Friday, April 7, 2023 and be accepted into the program. Applications are available on the NCIP website (www.ncip.org/educate) beginning Monday, March 6, 2023. Applicants may be interviewed and/or asked to complete a short writing exercise. Once you are accepted into the Clinic you will be given instructions as to how to enroll.

Because NCIP is a yearlong course, no grade will be awarded until the end of the second semester. NCIP meets the Professional Skills Requirement and is a Public Interest and Social Justice Law Certificate course. Students can take a maximum of 6 units of graded credit from any combination of NCIP course participation. Any additional units will be graded on a Credit/No Credit basis only.

Training and Education

All NCIP students are required to attend an intensive daylong training session known as “NCIP Boot Camp” near the beginning of the fall semester. Students will be assigned to work closely with one or more lead attorneys on designated cases. Students will be expected to be in the NCIP office, working on cases, at least ten hours per week on a schedule to be agreed upon in advance with the supervising attorneys. NCIP students will participate in meetings and seminars to discuss readings and presentations on post-conviction law and issues relevant to wrongful conviction and to the racial inequality that pervades our criminal justice system. Class topics include federal and state habeas corpus procedures, post-conviction DNA testing, investigation techniques, witness interview strategies, the science of DNA testing, and the causes and possible remedies for wrongful convictions. Each topic will center discussion and include readings on the ways that racial inequality is perpetuated by the existing system and alternatives. The NCIP experience is one of intensive casework and training. NCIP clinic students are considered junior staff on current cases and are expected to work with the same commitment and level of professionalism that they would in a law firm or government office.

Advanced Practice Clinic

Students who have completed the one-year NCIP course are encouraged to enroll in Advanced NCIP which provides the opportunity for them to continue to advance their individual cases and to research and discuss in-depth the specific issues relevant to promising cases. Advanced NCIP is available every semester, including summer. Participation requires faculty approval.

1) Become part of the new civil rights movement to reform our criminal legal system.

Since 1989, more than 3,386 wrongfully convicted people have been freed from prisons in the United States through the work of law students, journalists, public defenders, and others. Of those exonerated, at least 170 had been on death row. No one knows how many innocent people have already been executed. By enrolling in the Northern California Innocence Project (NCIP) you become directly involved in working to free the innocent and become part of a nationwide effort to address racial inequality and reform the injustices within our system.

2) Gain experience you cannot get at other law schools.

NCIP is one of only four innocence projects in California. No other law school in Northern California, and few other law schools in the country, can offer you the experience of working directly with attorneys and forensic experts to free wrongfully convicted prisoners. This could be a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to participate in the process by which an innocent person is freed.
3) Put your legal knowledge to direct practical use.

Working at NCIP offers an opportunity to enhance the skills and knowledge you have learned in your other classes. You will discover that the rules of evidence and the complexities of criminal procedure become infinitely more accessible when applied to actual cases. And you will find that your legal research and writing skills improve as you draft motions and briefs, and write letters regarding real issues in real cases for actual clients.

4) Gain new insights into criminal law, criminal procedure, and the post-conviction process.

Much of NCIP’s work involves identifying cases with viable claims of innocence and legal avenues for relief, such as post-conviction DNA testing. Advancing these cases provides an opportunity to develop an in-depth knowledge of evidence, criminal law, criminal procedure, and post-conviction relief.

5) Work directly with clients, attorneys, witnesses, and experts.

Our clients are real people in complex, nightmarish situations. Through your interactions with criminalists, forensic experts, defense attorneys, prosecutors, and witnesses, you will learn about the criminal justice system and how to remedy existing inequities. And you will have the opportunity to enrich your life with the experience of working with such a diverse group of people. If you wish to enroll, you must apply by 5 p.m., April 7, 2023. If accepted, you will receive permission to enroll during your scheduled registration period. For more information, please see our website at www.ncip.org.
Advanced Legal Research Courses

Why should you take an advanced legal research course?

- Advanced Legal Research Courses satisfy skills course credit requirements for graduation.

- Advanced Legal Research for Intellectual Property is an approved High Tech Law Certificate and IP LLM course.

- A survey of 300 hiring partners and senior associates who supervise new attorneys, from litigation and transactional practices in small to large U.S. law firms found that:
  “...86% of respondents overall believe legal research skills are highly important in young associates. 81% believe advanced legal research skills are also highly important and an even higher percentage, 88% reported that proficiency using paid research services is highly important. Considering most young associates spend between 40% and 60% of their time conducting legal research, proficiency in legal research is paramount.”  https://www.lexisnexis.com/documents/pdf/20150325064926_large.pdf

Advanced Legal Research is designed to teach "real-world" legal research skills to prepare students for the challenges and expectations they will encounter in legal practice and/or clerkships. The course will review who publishes legal authority, how it is organized, and how to access it efficiently and with particular attention on cost-effective research. Utilizing current, and emerging, legal research tools and technologies, the course develops research skills with assignments, lectures, and mock legal research exercises which emulate assignments typically given to attorneys new to practice. The pedagogical goals of this course include: 1) teaching students how to effectively evaluate research sources, 2) use these materials efficiently with attention to cost, 3) proficiency working with primary and secondary legal materials (including practice materials such as forms, model documents, and guidelines/checklists), 4) expose students to SEC filings and transactional materials, 5) cover state and federal regulatory materials and current awareness tools. This 2 credit course is usually offered in the fall semester.

Advanced Legal Research for Intellectual Property is a hands-on course for students planning on specializing in intellectual property practice. The class focuses on researching patents and trademarks. The class seeks to provide the student a cost/performance contrast between what is offered through proprietary databases versus free government and NGO websites. While the class emphasizes searching online formats, books are incorporated in class to familiarize students with the leading treatises in the field. This is a one credit course eligible as a High Tech Law Certificate course and approved IP LLM course. This course is usually offered during the summer session.
The Externship Program (ExPro)
https://law.scu.edu/externship/

What is an Externship?
An externship is a paid or unpaid legal position for which students receive academic credit. Students may work with law firms, in-house companies, government agencies, court or public interest organizations, for example. An externship provides an opportunity to learn and enhance your legal skills through practical experience in the field while earning law school credit and experiential units. All externships have a mandatory class that must be taken in conjunction with the externship.

Why enroll in the Externship Program?
Learning from experience is critical for your lifelong professional development. An externship provides practical experience and, along with the mandatory class, provides an opportunity to learn and practice the lawyering skills you will need throughout your career.

Taking an externship during law school makes sense. When to take an externship and what type of externship to choose depends on your goals. An externship allows you to:

- Begin to translate what you know to what you can do
- Develop legal skills
- Gain practical legal experience
- Experience work in a legal setting
- Explore a practice area

How do I Find an Externship?
Securing and externship is similar to finding an internship and/or employment. There are a variety of guides and resources to help you locate, apply for, and secure an externship.

Please visit the ExPro website at https://law.scu.edu/externship/ for more specific information. You’re also welcome to make an appointment with or visit ExPro. Come talk to us, we’re happy to help!

How do I Enroll in the Externship Program?
Please visit the ExPro website at https://law.scu.edu/externship/ for more information, including:

- student requirements
- registering for an externship
- sponsor and supervisor requirements
- externship types, or externship practice areas

The Panetta Fellows Program
This externship is with the Leon and Sylvia Panetta Institute for Public Policy in Monterey, California. The Panetta Fellows Program provides a unique educational opportunity for law students interested in law and government, politics, and public policy. Students work with the attorneys and professional staff at the Panetta Institute on matters within the public mission and service of the Institute.
The main components of the Panetta Fellows Program include:

- 140 hours of field work completed at the Panetta Institute in Monterrey, California (a travel stipend is included) over the course of the fall or spring semesters;
- 2 mandatory days at the Panetta Institute, Fridays and 1 other day which the student selects;
- Mandatory attendance at all Friday classes conducted at the Institute (no exceptions, no conflicts permitted; thus students cannot apply for moot court teams, etc., where Friday conflicts may arise)
- Enroll and successfully complete Law 706, the Externship Workshop.

Travel time may not be included in the determination of whether the student has met the 140 hour minimum. There is a stipend available to each student to help reimburse the cost of travel to Monterey in connection with the Fellowship. Students receive three units and the class is graded Credit/No Credit. Students are not paid for their work at the Institute.

To apply for the Panetta Fellows Program or for more information regarding the application process and deadlines, please visit the Expro website at https://law.scu.edu/externship/

Additional Type of Experiential Learning

Overseas Placements

All students interested in a semester internship/externship abroad must contact the Center for Global Law and Policy.

Students learn about the functioning of lawyers in an international legal environment through practical experience over the summer or for a semester in international courts or tribunals (international judicial externships), or law offices, government entities, NGOs, and commercial entities (international non-judicial externships) outside of the United States. Students work a minimum of 50 hours per unit, up to a maximum of 8 units over the summer or 12 units for full semester externships.

Details for the summer study abroad internships are provided at http://law.scu.edu/international/summer-abroad/. Details about semester-long international externships are available at http://law.scu.edu/international/international-externships/.

LIMIT ON CUMULATIVE UNITS

In calculating the 86 units required to graduate, a student may count no more than 12 units from any combination of fieldwork (i.e., not including the seminar units earned in conjunction with the field work) from the following:

- All Externships, including summer abroad externships
- The Panetta Fellowship Program
- Credit for classes taken in the interdisciplinary program with the School of Education and Counseling Psychology
- Juvenile Justice courses
However, a student who does both a summer abroad externship and a semester-long international externship may count up to 16 units of such fieldwork toward the 86 units required to graduate:

Students are limited to a maximum of 3 externship placements.

Any additional field work units may be reflected on a student’s transcript, but will not count toward graduation.

ADDITIONAL POLICIES

- Students are limited to a maximum of 3 externship placements
- All externships run concurrently to the academic calendar. Thus, students are expected to present to their field placement for 14 weeks in fall and spring semesters and 7.5 weeks for the summer semester. No front-loading or back-loading of hours is allowed.
- Students may not register for less than 3 units of fieldwork per semester, which is roughly equivalent to 11 hours of fieldwork per week (fall and spring). An exception is made for part-time students who are working full-time and graduating 3L’s, who may register for no less than 2 units of fieldwork per semester, or roughly 7 hours of fieldwork per week (fall and spring). It is understood that the unit requirement is SCU’s minimum policy; however, this does not take into account the sponsor’s expectation regarding the number of hours presented per week, which may be higher than SCU policy. Students participating in a summer semester externship may apply for 2 units of fieldwork.

International Students

Any type of work, paid or unpaid, done for an off-campus company or organization requires Curricular Practical Training (CPT) authorization. If you have any assignment or project like this in one of your classes or you wish to undertake this commitment, please visit International Student Services (ISS) in the Global Engagement Office BEFORE engaging in the activity.

The university is now required to terminate the SEVIS record of any student found to be engaged in unauthorized employment. If you have any doubt about what constitutes employment, please come see ISS BEFORE engaging in any type of productive activity, paid or unpaid, for an off-campus company or organization. It is better to be safe than sorry.

CPT Courses: Off-campus externships still require CPT. Please see the course descriptions from your school for more details.

Beginning in the Spring 2017 term: The zero unit internship course offered is Law 567. The Director of the Externship Program will sign your CPT form as your faculty advisor. You must secure that form and perform all requirements, however, through the Global Engagement Office.

CPT Requests: As before, CPT authorization is provided by appointment only. In addition, the forms to request CPT have been updated to meet the federal requirements and only the updated forms will be accepted. Please find the updated form and instructions at: https://www.scu.edu/globalengagement/international-students/employment-for-international-students/cpt/#d.en.666363

CPT appointments can be made in person at the Global Engagement Office or by calling, 408-551-3019.
HONORS MOOT COURT PROGRAMS

All students are required to take Advocacy immediately following completion of their first year of law school. Beyond that required course, Santa Clara’s Honors Moot Court (HMC) program provides JD candidates with the opportunity to put their legal writing and advocacy skills into practice by participating in simulated arguments before an appellate court or in another mock practice setting. The HMC program has three major components, each discussed below: Galloway, Honors Moot Court Internal (HMCI), and Honors Moot Court External (HMCE). First-year students compete in Galloway in a closed universe of law against other SCU 1Ls, represent only one party in the appeal, and earn cash prizes. In the HMCI competition, upper-division students compete against other SCU students in an open universe of law, present oral argument for both parties to the appeal, and earn cash prizes. In the various HMCE Competitions, upper-division students compete against law students from other law schools throughout the United States and the world, represent various parties in an appellate argument, negotiation, or arbitration, or compete in client counseling simulations, and can earn cash prizes in some competitions.

Students may earn no more than 8 units of academic credit in all moot court activity. All units are graded Credit/No Credit.

For details, see http://law.scu.edu/mootcourt/.

1. Galloway Criminal Law Moot Court

First-year students have the opportunity, early in the spring semester, to participate in this internal criminal law moot court competition. Students do not need any background in appellate law or oral advocacy. The law is limited to a closed universe of cases, and students represent one party to the appeal. Students do not receive credit for participating in the Galloway Moot Court; however, awards and cash prizes are given to the first- and second-place teams and to the best oral advocate and writers of the best brief. The competition is organized by the Galloway Moot Court Board. Students reaching at least the quarterfinals of the competition are eligible to serve on the Galloway Moot Court Board to manage the Galloway Competition the following year. For more information, please see: http://law.scu.edu/mootcourt/galloway/.

2. Galloway Moot Court Board

The Galloway Moot Court Board is a student organization responsible for all aspects of organizing the Galloway competition: drafting the problem, evaluating the briefs, serving as practice judges, recruiting volunteer judges, publicizing the competition, organizing information sessions, and other tasks.

Students may choose to earn credit for their work on the Galloway Moot Court Board. Students choosing to earn credit may earn up to 2 units. Credit is awarded based on the number of hours devoted to academic (as opposed to administrative) activity. Membership on the board is determined by the outgoing board and faculty advisor at the end of the spring semester. Students reaching at least the quarterfinals of the competition are eligible to apply.
3. Honors Moot Court – Internal Competition (HMCI)

Each year the School of Law conducts an in-house appellate moot court competition. Enrollment is limited. Students are selected to participate by the student-run Internal Moot Court Board based on a written application combined with evaluation of the applicant’s performance in the oral and written components of the Advocacy course. Students must complete the application by the deadline established by the internal moot court board.

Selected students are permitted to register for Honors Moot Court – Internal Competition in the spring semester. Students who register must attend all classes, participate in all moots for which they qualify, and complete all required assignments, or they will receive a “no-credit” grade on their transcripts. Students earn 2 units of non-graded credit for full participation in the competition.

HMCI has a mandatory class component where students discuss the logistics of the competition and techniques for advanced persuasive writing and oral advocacy skills.

Students compete in teams of two. In the first phase of the HMCI Competition, they research and write a brief based on a problem prepared by the Internal Moot Court Board. Faculty or practitioner graders read and critique the first submission. After students revise their work based on this feedback, members of the Internal Moot Court Board read and score the final brief submissions.

In the second phase of the competition, students present oral arguments. To help competitors prepare for this phase, the Internal Moot Court Board holds practice rounds and provides feedback. Then each team argues at least twice (once on each side of the case) before panels of SCU faculty, local attorneys, and judges. Based on the scores in the preliminary rounds and the scores on the brief, teams are selected to participate in advanced single elimination rounds that culminate in a final round in late spring.

Awards and cash prizes are given for, among other things, the best brief and best oral advocates. All participants in the HMC Internal Competition are eligible to become members of the Internal Moot Court Board the following year.

For more information, please see: http://law.scu.edu/mootcourt/internal-competition/

Students may earn no more than 8 units of academic credit in all appellate moot court activity (external competitions, the HMC Internal Competition, Galloway Moot Court Board, Internal Moot Court Board, or External Moot Court Board). All units are graded Credit/No Credit.

4. Honors Moot Court Internal Board

The Honors Moot Court Internal Board is a student organization whose primary responsibility is the administration of the Honors Moot Court Internal Competition. Student board members learn valuable practical legal skills by drafting the problem and bench brief, organizing the competition, teaching the HMCI course, evaluating the final briefs, serving as practice judges, communicating with attorneys and judges, and managing a large organization.
Students earn from 1 to 4 units for work as members of the Internal Moot Court Board. Credit is awarded based on the number of hours devoted to academic (as opposed to administrative) activity. Membership on the board is determined by the outgoing board and faculty advisor at the end of the spring semester. All participants in the Honors Moot Court Internal competition are eligible to apply.

Students may earn no more than 8 units of academic credit in all appellate moot court activity (external competitions, HMC Internal Competition, Galloway Moot Court Board, Internal Moot Court Board, or External Moot Court Board). All units are graded Credit/No Credit.

5. Honors Moot Court-External Competitions (HMCE)

Honors External Moot Court competitions offer the opportunity for law students to develop and refine practical professional lawyering skills. These include: independent and collaborative legal research and persuasive writing, producing professional-quality written work, negotiation or client counseling skills, oral advocacy, teamwork, and project management. Students participating as competitors also will have the unique experience of competing against teams from other law schools, working closely with a faculty or attorney coach in preparing for competitions, and building their professional networks with attorneys and judges who will be evaluating their arguments.

Each year, the law school enters student teams in a number of inter-school, or external, moot court and other skills competitions hosted by law schools and other organizations around the country and internationally. The 2022-2023 competitions entered are listed below, though this selection may vary from year to year:

- ABA Law Student Division, Client Counseling
- ABA Law Student Division, Negotiation
- AIPLA Giles Sutherland Rich Moot Court Competition (Patent)
- Clara Barton International Humanitarian Law Competition
- INTA/Saul Lefkowitz Trademark Moot
- National Criminal Procedure Tournament
- Thomas Tang National Moot Court Competition
- Villanova Law Esports Negotiation Competition

HMCE manages SCU’s participation in these types of external competitions. Students seeking to participate in an appellate competition must have either taken or be taking Advocacy. Tryouts for positions on teams are held on a rolling basis during the academic year, depending on the timing of the competition. Most external competitions are held in the late fall or the spring semester, however, and thus most team selections are made early in the fall semester or in the summer.

To receive academic credit for external team participation, each team must have been selected by the HMCE Board, and each team member must be authorized by the HMCE advisor to enroll. Eligibility to participate and receive credit is limited and is based on application and demonstration of ability. Team selection is supervised by the HMCE faculty advisor, and positions on teams are subject to the HMCE advisor’s and the team coach’s approval.

Students may opt to earn 2 units of non-graded credit (1 unit for competitions without a writing requirement) for their full, good-faith participation in the competition, awarded at the discretion of the team coach or HMCE Advisor. Students are also highly encouraged to limit their participation to 1 external competition per academic year, and to limit their other extra-curricular and outside activities during the competition periods.

Students may earn no more than 8 units of academic credit in all appellate moot court activity (HMCE external competitions, the HMC Internal Competition, Internal Moot Court Board or External Moot Court Board). All units are graded Credit/No Credit.

For more information, please see: http://law.scu.edu/mootcourt/moot-court-external/.

6. Honors Moot Court External Board

Honors Moot Court External Board service offers students the opportunity to develop and refine professional lawyering skills such as leadership, collaborative project management and team-building, evaluating written and oral legal arguments, oral and written communication, budget management, problem-solving, and interviewing skills. Students also have potential of networking with professors and attorneys serving as coaches, moot judges, and competition organizers.

The External Moot Court Board is a student organization whose primary responsibility is the administration of Honors Moot Court External (HMCE) competitions. The HMCE board works with the faculty advisor and team coaches to select the competitors for each team, which requires designing and implementing a selection process which may incorporate evaluation of candidates’ performance in the Advocacy course or in other courses. Board members also assist with drafting try-out problems as needed, ranking the applications and writing samples, evaluating oral argument try-outs, and considering other relevant criteria to select competitors and assign teams to particular competitions. Additionally, with each competing team, board members assist the coach as needed with organizing and participating in the team’s practice sessions, arranging for mooting sessions, videotaping, and inviting practice judges. Board members also assist the competing teams and the faculty advisor with planning the teams’ travel.

Students may earn from 1 to 4 units for work as members of the External Moot Court Board. Credit is awarded based on the student’s position on the Board and the number of hours devoted to academic (as distinguished from administrative) activity. Membership on the board is determined at the end of each spring semester by the outgoing board and the faculty advisor at the end of the spring semester. Experience in prior external honors moot court competitions is strongly recommended to apply for a position on the External Moot Court Board.

Students may earn no more than 8 units of academic credit in all appellate moot court activity (HMCE external competitions, the HMC Internal Competition, Internal Moot Court Board or External Moot Court Board). All units are graded Credit/No Credit.

COMBINED DEGREE PROGRAMS

The Law School and the Leavey School of Business offer two joint degree programs that enable students to pursue concurrent work in Law and Business:

- JD/MBA - offers students the opportunity to earn a law degree and a Masters in Business Administration. This nationally ranked program offers flexible scheduling and equips graduates as business leaders in any chosen industry.

- JD/MSIS - offers students the opportunity to obtain both the JD degree and the MS in Information Systems degree. This combined degree allows students to develop a deep technological understanding of the legal issues in the Information Technology industry and to learn how to use technology effectively in a law practice.

Students must apply to the Leavey School of Business during their first year of law school. It is recommended that students complete applications after the fall exam period.

Law students who have pursued the joint degree program have cited the professional flexibility provided by substantive knowledge of two distinct fields, as well as the intrinsic intellectual interest of studying very different subjects from different academic approaches and emphases.

Students interested in the JD/MBA or JD/MSIS program should plan to attend the JD/MBA or JD/MSIS information session in late fall of their first year. In spring of first year, students should meet with the Senior Assistant Dean for Student Services as early in the semester as possible. More information can be found on the graduate business web page.

J.D./LL.M. Program in Intellectual Property Law

The J.D./LL.M. joint degree program is designed to primarily be a 3.5 year full-time program available only to SCU School of Law students who have been accepted for participation in both programs.

   a) Maintain a satisfactory grade point average in each degree program
   b) Satisfy the academic requirements of each degree program
   c) Complete all courses identified as required for both degrees
   d) Work out a specific, individualized academic program with a member of the Law Student Services staff

2. With the approval of any such individualized academic program, permission may be granted to count 12 units of specified courses for credit toward both degrees.

   a) Under a typical schedule, full-time students complete the program and receive both degrees in 3.5 years. Students must declare their intent to participate in the program no later than 12 months before graduation and complete the requirements for both degrees prior to graduation.
   b) The joint J.D./LL.M. in Intellectual Property Law requires the completion of 98 units, of which (a) 24 units must satisfy the prevailing LL.M. in Intellectual Property Law requirements, including the writing requirement; and (b) 21 units must be IP/High Tech designated classes. (The remaining 3 units necessary for the LL.M. degree are LL.M. elective units.)

SCU Law Competency Model

Santa Clara Law is one of the first law schools in the country to adopt a competency model designed to provide students with the building blocks they need as they move through their law school experience to practice. Simply, competencies are observable knowledge, skills, abilities and behaviors critical to successful performance. The SCU law competency model provides students with a road map that articulates and makes transparent what they need to enter practice.

Many legal organizations use competencies in developing their lawyers. A competency model framework is a structure that articulates core competencies and defines each individual competency (such as legal writing or problem-solving) required for entry-level professional practice in terms of performance factors and observable behavioral elements, so they can begin to understand what it looks like and what is expected. Performance factors are the specific skills and behaviors that together fully describe the core competency. Behavioral elements are simply descriptions of the observable behaviors that would be exhibited by students who have mastered a performance factor.

The competency model framework primarily focuses on skills and is not structured around traditional subject areas, but instead emphasizes foundational competencies that are important to everyone in the field and that students can obtain across a wide selection of Courses, Clinics, Externships and extra-curricular activities inside and outside of the law school.
LL.M. Program in United States Law

Graduation Requirements

All participants seeking the LL.M. degree must do the following:

Successfully complete 24 semester hours of class credit

– Successfully complete Introduction to US Law (LAW 700). This course is designed to give participants an intensive overview of the basic elements of the United States substantive and structural law.

– Writing Requirement. Students must complete a written research paper either in conjunction with a 2 – 3 unit class or as an independent research paper (LAW 298) under the supervision of a faculty member.

– Be in residence for a minimum of two regular semesters (not including summer sessions).

– Enroll in a minimum of 8 units per semester and complete the degree requirements within a maximum of two academic years from the date of matriculation.

Completion of the course, Legal Research, Analysis, and Writing for U.S. Law LL.M.s (LAW 376) is highly recommended, but not required. The purpose of this course is to enhance the students’ skills in the area of legal research and writing.

While students are not required to declare a specialization, Santa Clara Law does provide a variety of coursework that would allow for the student to enhance and develop his or her understanding of a specific area of law.

U.S. Law Specializations

In addition to the General Studies LL.M., the School of Law offers three specializations in areas of its internationally recognized strengths. To complete a specialization, the participant must enroll in 12 credit hours of courses within the specific curriculum of the selected specialization. The specialization offerings include:

Intellectual Property

The 12 credit hours of specialized study must include Intellectual Property Survey and International IP Law. The remaining units must be taken from the Intellectual Property/High Tech Law curriculum.

Human Rights

Human Rights. Within the 12 credit hours of specialized study, participants must select courses from any of the courses listed in the two broad categories of social justice courses listed here.

International and Comparative Law

The 12 credit hours of specialized study must be taken from the International Law Curriculum.
Grades and Grade Requirements

Current Policies:

Students in the Exchange-to-LL.M. program in U.S. Law are graded on a Standard Letter Grade basis.

Students in the LL.M. program in U.S. Law are graded on a Pass/No Pass basis in all courses.

Students in the LL.M. program in U.S. Law for whom English is a second language in which they have not reached academic competence may request additional time, up to time and a half, for exams. These students may also request the use of a translating dictionary. Absent an approved request for language accommodations, students are required to follow standard exam rules.

Exchange-to-LL.M. program in U.S. Law students are not eligible to petition for language accommodations.

Grade Option Petition:

Students in the LL.M. program in U.S. Law may petition to be graded with regular letter grades (A, B, etc.) instead of Pass/No Pass. To do so:

1. Secure all necessary approval signatures on the LL.M. in US Law Grade Option Petition form

2. Submit the form to the Law Student Services Office by the end of the 4th week of classes during the fall and spring semester and by the end of the 2nd week of classes in the summer term

3. Students can rescind this request until the end of the 10th week of classes during the semester and by the end of the 3rd week of classes in the summer term. After this time, students may not elect or rescind a grade option change

4. Summer term deadlines will apply to off-cycle and short-term courses

Some classes are only offered on a Credit/No Credit or Pass/No Pass basis and the option cannot be changed. These are designated as Credit/No Credit or Pass/No Pass on the schedule of classes.
