“Attending Santa Clara Law is one of the best decisions of my life. I have never felt so supported and part of a community. I was granted opportunities which have exceptionally prepared me for the career I desired.”

—EDUARDO FISHER 3L

“Santa Clara Law has created a sense of belonging in a number of ways, but most importantly by carefully curating a warm and welcoming community. Coming into law school, I wasn’t expecting to be received by such a welcoming and kind community—from faculty and staff down to the students.”

—CARI HALL 2L

The Santa Clara Law Advantage

STUDENT EXPERIENCE

At Santa Clara Law, you will encounter a transformative learning community that uniquely combines the mission and ethos of caring with the academic rigor, engaged classroom environment, wrap-around student support resources, hands-on practical skills training, and direct professional coaching and mentoring necessary for your lifelong success. We are committed to educating the whole person and developing the next generation of lawyers who lead.

FACULTY ACCESSIBILITY

Our distinguished faculty are here to help you succeed and are committed to your learning and growth. They are renowned scholars who are available to you for mentoring, advice, and guidance.

CAREER SUPPORT

Our Office of Career Management (OCM) partners with you to develop the skills you need to secure the career you want. OCM creates further connections by inviting employers to engage with you both on campus and online. Our 1L Coaching Teams go beyond the classroom to nurture, challenge, and mentor you as you work to transform your interests into your career.

OUR JESUIT TRADITION AND OUR HISTORY

Founded in 1911, Santa Clara Law offers an educational experience steeped in the Jesuit traditions of ethics, social justice, and community service. The Law School has been educating lawyers for 113 years with an emphasis on cura personalis—care for the whole person—based on loving-kindness.

INCLUSIVE EXCELLENCE

Diversity is one of Santa Clara Law’s key distinctive strengths. As one of the nation’s most diverse law schools, we intentionally and comprehensively work together to build an inclusive community—one that is dedicated to educating lawyers who lead with a commitment to excellence, ethics, and social justice.

FLEX J.D.

LAW SCHOOL ON YOUR SCHEDULE

With the Flex J.D., your career and family commitments are no longer a barrier to pursuing your dream of a law degree. In our new hybrid, part-time program, you attend classes in person for one week at the beginning of each semester plus three long weekends (held once per month). Between on-campus sessions, you will take classes in an asynchronous, online format at the times and locations that work for your schedule.

Professional networking is built into the schedule, enabling you to connect with instructors, peers, and the broader legal community.

In addition to the core curriculum and electives offered in the Flex J.D. program via the hybrid modality, you are free to enroll in any in-person course or clinic offered outside the program that may fit your schedule.

Note: regular, in-person attendance may be required in elective full-time courses.

“The Santa Clara Flex J.D. is a perfect blend of flexibility and structure. Its carefully planned residency schedule and course cadence have made it feasible for me to pursue a law degree at a top-notch university while supporting my family and nurturing a career. The Flex J.D. has extended Santa Clara’s reputation of providing collaborative and compassionate learning environments to a demographic that includes working professionals like me. I could not recommend this program more!”

GRADUATE AND BE PRACTICE READY

At Santa Clara Law, our extensive practical training programs, distinguished centers, clinics, and externships offer many hands-on learning opportunities. These enable you to gain valuable legal practice experience and serve others while still in law school, preparing you for the complex and global legal world by bridging the gap between the classroom and real-world lawyering.

“Law students benefit greatly from the Entrepreneurs’ Law Clinic at Santa Clara Law, which gives them real experience and hands-on engagement in managing essential transactions for developing businesses. Students obtain essential skills, professional contacts, and a thorough grasp of the complexity of the entrepreneurial world by working closely with entrepreneurs and being exposed to a variety of legal challenges, preparing them for successful careers in the legal industry.”

Laura Norris J.D. '97 (above right) joined the Santa Clara Law faculty in 2013 to found Silicon Valley's first Entrepreneurs' Law Clinic at SCU. She serves as assistant director of the clinic as well as the Tech Edge J.D. program, is Director of Innovation, and faculty advisor for ChIPs Women in Tech Law at SCU, which is a nonprofit that advances women in tech law. Laura is also the associate dean for Academic Affairs.

LAW CLINICS

The Entrepreneurs' Law Clinic focuses on the needs of early-stage Silicon Valley companies and provides students with real-life exposure to legal issues that confront startups.

The Immigration Appellate Practice Clinic offers students opportunities to represent individuals seeking review of deportation orders before the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit.

The International Human Rights Clinic gives students unique, practical, and supervised experience in international human rights litigation and advocacy.

The Katharine & George Alexander Community Law Center provides students with the opportunity to work with attorney mentors to help real clients with legal issues including workers' rights, consumer rights, and immigration rights.

The Northern California Innocence Project works to challenge wrongful convictions on every front by exonerating the innocent, educating future attorneys, and reforming criminal justice policy. Students work alongside experienced attorneys and forensic experts.

WELCOME TO SANTA CLARA LAW!

Santa Clara Law has a prime location in the heart of Silicon Valley, connecting you with one of the most vibrant economies in the world as well as our prominent alumni network. Our dynamic Jesuit university is also the “heart” of Silicon Valley, with our emphasis on ethics, social justice, educating the whole person, and serving others.

Our teaching scholars are brilliant, caring, and supportive; our students are diverse, creative, and collaborative. We are a national leader in high tech law, with top-ranked programs in intellectual property and privacy, and we were the first law school in the nation to offer a Privacy Law Certificate. Our Center for Global Law and Policy offers unique international externships and one of the largest study abroad programs of all U.S. law schools. Our students explore their passions for social justice through outstanding clinical opportunities such as the Northern California Innocence Project, the International Human Rights Clinic, and the Katharine & George Alexander Community Law Center.

All of these programs have one thing in common: they enable you to study and learn the law while also developing essential practical skills that will empower you to serve your clients and your communities—to do well and do good! Your hands-on experience in our courses and clinics will enhance your leadership skills, provide a sense of personal fulfillment, and prepare you for professional success.

We are proud of our home, the Howard S. and Alida S. Charney Hall of Law, a state-of-the-art building at the gateway to our historic California Mission campus.

We look forward to welcoming you to our community!
