

Jed Repko
Partner
Joele Frank, Wilkinson Brimmer Katcher

Jed Repko is a partner at Joele Frank, a strategic communications firm with offices in New York and San Francisco. He provides counsel to public companies and private equity firms in the context of ongoing investor and public relations and special situations including mergers and acquisitions, shareholder activism, restructuring and bankruptcy, crisis and initial public offerings. Jed joined Joele Frank with more than seven years of financial advisory experience in corporate bankruptcy and restructuring. He was previously a vice president at AlixPartners and an analyst at Kroll Zolfo Cooper. Jed received a Bachelor of Arts in art history with a minor in philosophy from Bowdoin College. Jed is also a member of the Board of Advisors of McSweeney's, an independent book publisher in San Francisco.