

Alerian Lockwood
University of Washington School of Law

Alerian Lockwood is a third-year law student at the University of Washington School of Law. She is a member of the Pacific Rim Law and Policy Journal, and she also serves as its Director of Operations. She received her B.A. from Brown University in 2004. She has worked as the General Manager of an in-flight sourcing company and as a Financial Adviser.