

Daniel Seng
Associate Professor
National University of Singapore /
Stanford Law School

Daniel Seng is an Associate Professor with the Faculty of Law, National University of Singapore. He is now working on his J.S.D. thesis on online intermediary liability with Stanford Law School. He has written and presented numerous papers and studies on digital copyright and intermediary liability issues at various local, regional and international conferences and workshops, including workshops and conferences organized by the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) and the WIPO Standing Committee on Copyright and Related Rights. He is also a special consultant to WIPO on an ongoing international study of Internet intermediary liability.